Another beautiful wedding will take place today at half-past 4, when Rev. Dr. Paxton of Lynchburg, Va., a cousin of the bride, assisted by Rev. Dr. Hamlin, will perform the marriage ceremony for Miss Martha McMurtrie Gregg and Mr. Fredinand Martin Haller of Hernburg Communication. tin Haller of Hamburg, Germany. This second international union of the day will Grenring of New York as groomsmen. The bride, who will be escorted by her uncle, London during a recent stay abroad. Gen. David Gregg of Reading, is to wear a dainty dress of white draped with the lace that trimmed her grandmother's wedding dress, and a lace veil worn by a greattirely in white. Each will carry pink roses. A reception for about 200 guests will follow from 5 to 7, and Mr. and Mrs. Haller will leave town this evening for a short trip. They will sail for Germany on the 10th of February, to take up their residence in Hamburg.

This couple first met while on a southern cruise last year, the bride of today traveling then with her aunt, Miss Mc-Knight of Pittsburg, and Mr. Haller being in company with a number of German offiers. During the trip abroad last summer their engagement was announced and the wedding day set. Mr. Haller only arrived about a week ago from Hamburg.

The marriage of Miss Alice Ward to Senor Don Juan Riano took place at noon today at the residence of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. John S. Ward, and was a beautiful ceremony, at which a company of relatives and personal friends looked on with satisfaction and pleasure. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Krug, assistant rector of St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, 15th and V streets. Mrs. Chandler Anderson of New York, sister of the bride, was her only attendant, the Spanish minister, Senor Don Emilio de Ojeda, being best man and witness for the bridegroom. The spacious mansion was most elaborately decorated with flowers, each room having a color appropriate to its permanent arrangement, making a scene in marked contrast to the wintry picture that high winds and drifting snow formed in the locality of Condrifting snow formed in the locality of Con-necticut and Florida avenues. The devotion of this couple, culminating in their marriage today, has been watched with interest at this capital, where both have so many friends. First postponed by the long illness and death of Senor Riano's mother, the couple then awaited the latter's promotion in the diplomatic service, following the well-merited reward of his five years' term here, before setting the date for the wed-ding. ding.

Senor and Mme. Riano went to New York this afternoon, and will sail tomorrow for Europe. Their next residence will be in Paris, where Senor Riano has been promoted to the first secretaryship of the Spanish embassy.

Mr. John Selley Ward, jr., of New York, uncle of the bride, escorted his niece to the drawing room today for the ceremony. The beauty of her elegant wedding dress of lace and white satin was enhanced by the
